Expectations of Principal Investigators

- No Food or Drink in lab
- Wear proper lab attire when in the lab
- Remove lab coat and gloves before leaving the lab
- Know and understand your health and safety responsibilities outlined in the Responsibilities section
- Comply with University emergency instructions and emergency response procedures including any specific to your work area
- Participate in emergency response training & drills
- Report all work-related accidents through the Online Accident Reporting System (OARS) and, if necessary, Workers’ Compensation
- Report unsafe or unhealthy working conditions and practices to supervisor
- Complete the University Health and Safety Orientation course within the first week of employment